

Hello from Pure Maintenance.

Pure Maintenance is the preferred mold remediation vendor for Farmers Insurance. We are proud to say that during this period, we have a 100% satisfaction rating with our Farmers Insurance clients. Please take a moment to familiarize yourself with our process and feel free to visit our website or contact us directly if you have any questions.

We have been a preferred vendor since 2020 and have treated many homes for Farmers Insurance clients. We have learned that not all of your clients have mold coverage in their policies. We are the top of line remediators for those who do have coverage and a great referral you can feel comfortable sharing for those who do not. If a client does not have coverage for mold, you are able to tell them that there is an economical and superior process that Farmers Insurance uses and can recommend.

Briefly, we use a patented, two-step process to reduce mold and other pathogens to healthy indoor levels using an EPA registered, hospital grade sterilant followed by an EPA registered, 90 day antimicrobial surface agent. The process treats pathogens throughout an entire facility using a proprietary dry fog/ vapor technology that fills the entire space, yet nothing will be wet once the process is finished. The second step of the process gives the space protection going forward. It is safe for everything in the home including electronics. Because it is effective against bacteria, it is great for eliminating odors. A typical home can be treated in 5-6 hours. The Pure Maintenance process treats the entire home for a fraction of the cost of traditional methods and is more thorough.

Although we acknowledge that tearing out building materials is sometimes needed, it is not always necessary. Pure Maintenance has a demolition free method for treating inside walls that is more safe and effective. Traditional remediation methods only treat the area where there is visible mold. If there is visible mold, the overall mold load of the home will be elevated and treating only what you can see does not return the home to a healthy environment. Think of cooking something in your kitchen that is aromatic such as bacon or popcorn, it does not take long before you can smell it throughout your home. Mold spores spread in the same way so putting up plastic and running air scrubbers in an affected area does not resolve the mold issue in the home. The remaining toxic mold spores will eventually find a food source and start to grow and multiply. Pure Maintenance is not only a cost saving alternative, it is a much better solution. Pure Maintenance service costs a fraction of what other remediation companies charge and you get a much more thorough and lasting solution.
